THE RELIGIOUS NEWS.

The convention of all the Sunday-schools in Breckenridge county will be held at the M. E. church, South, in this city, on June 9. The program will be published later.

Rev. T. R. Kendall, pastor of Settle Chapel, at Owensboro, will begin a protracted meeting at the M. E. church, South, tonight, to continue about two weeks. Preaching service will be held each day at 8 o'clock in the afternoon and 7:30 o'clock in the evening. The public is cordially invited to attend all these services.

The protracted meeting at the Baptist church, conducted by Rev. J. C. Bolton, of near Louisville, closed Sunday evening, April 18, and two services were held each day. On last Sunday Rev. Bolton preached a sermon for the children in the afternoon. The attendance was good throughout the meeting and many sermons, strong to a logical standpoint, were heard by attentive audiences. The addition Sunday evening, Mr. Fletcher Pankley, will be baptised next Sunday evening after the regular service.

Sunday-School Convention.

We wish to call attention to the Sunday-school convention, which is to be held at Bewleyville May 14, 1904. Miss Nannie Lee Frayser is to be with us again. Those that heard her last year know what a power she is to a convention. So come again and bring others with you. Let every one help to make this the best convention ever held.

You from other districts come to see what wide-awake conventions we have in Bewleyville district.

The programme will be printed soon in this worthy paper.

Hayes, formerly owner, has been promoted to agent for the company at El Reno, Oklahoma. The many friends that Mr. Hayes has made since his stay in Memphis will be glad to hear of his well deserved promotion."

The commission held its first meeting today and made known the project.

Louise Marlow, of St. Louis, was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Marlow, at Patesville, last week.

SAD DEATH YOUNG BOY

Carl Lamb, the fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Lamb, died Sunday night at 9:50 o'clock of pneumonia and a gripe. He was ill only a week and his death was a shock to friends and relatives, as no improvement was noticed in his condition several hours before death came. The funeral was held from the family residence at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon and the interment was in the city cemetery. Rev. P. L. King, of the Methodist church, conducted the funeral services. The pall-bearers were Chas. Jackson, Otto Fallon, Mack Miller, Stuart Babage, J. D. Babage, Jr., and Franz Witte, friends and schoolmates of the deceased. A large concourse of friends and relatives of this city and Tobinsport, Ind., attended the funeral. At 3 o'clock the city public school, of which the deceased was a member, was dismissed and many school children were in attendance.

The death of the young boy was one of the saddest in the city for some time. He was one of the brightest pupils of the High School, a member of the Presbyterian Sunday-school and had many friends among his acquaintances.

Mrs. Murray's Sister Dead.

Mrs. Emily Graham Brown, member of a pioneer and well-known Louisville family and an only sister of Mrs. John Allen Murray, of this city, died in Louisville Sunday night at 9 o'clock of nervous prostration, after an illness of three years. Mrs. Brown was sixty-five years of age. She was a member of the Warren Memorial Presbyterian church, of Louisville, and took an active part in church and charitable work. She was a most estimable woman in every respect. Her husband, J. T. S. Brown, and seven children, who survive, are all well-known Louisville people.

Mrs. Murray and two children, Donald and John Allen Murray, went to Louisville Monday afternoon to attend the funeral, which was held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

India's Varied Cuckoos.

In the matter of cuckoos India can give points to the British isles. The good folk at home see only one species of cuckoo, and that spends less than half its time on the British shores; but in India, on the other hand, can boast of an avifauna in which the species family cuckoo is represented by no fewer than thirty species—Madras Mail.

GEN. D. L. ADAIR DEAD

Gen. D. L. Adair, a veteran of the Mexican war and one of the best known men of this section of the State, died suddenly of heart failure at 9 o'clock yesterday morning at Hawesville. He was about seventy-five years of age.

General Adair is survived by his wife, three sons and three daughters. His children are: Ike C. of Fordville, John S. of Stephensport, William, of Texas, and Mrs. Mary Whitworth and Misses Ellen and Dood Adair, of Hawesville. His sons are all prominent and well known business men.

PICKED UP.

Dr. Cox, of Canneton, Ind., was called to Owensboro Friday to see his daughter, Mrs. Brownfield, who was quite sick.

The cannery factory at Dukes has been laid over until next fall on account of not getting every thing in shape. The movers in this enterprise say they have not given up but will surely make it go and have everything in good shape for business next season.

The road from this city to Dukes is traveled more than any road leading to town and is in a worse condition. It needs attention right now and the commission ought to see to it that it is put in shape for travel. One place especially where a bridge has been washed away and is laying on the side of the road should be fixed. Just a little work would put this back in place and save the lives of people and the loss of their vehicles. It is a very bad place and the wonder is that loaded wagons get over it at all. It is dangerous too. Commissioner Harris should see to it at once.

Frank Carter, of Irvington, who has been at Wood Grove for two weeks, under the treatment of a physician, returned home Monday very much improved in health.

Mrs. John Wimp, of Irvington, returned from Louisville Monday.

B. F. Beard, Chas. Beard and Chas. Royalty, of Hardinsburg, went to Louisville Monday.

Nick Greenwood to Cas. Whitehead last week 4 head fine steers at 4 cents, weight 1,300.

Mr. Honston Miller returned Monday from a visit to his niece, Mrs. Milton Board, at Hopkinsville. He says he enjoyed his visit very much and was agreeably surprised at the way things are carried on at the Asylum. Says there is perfect system, order and cleanliness. That Dr. Board has everything well in hand and is conducting the institution in a creditable manner to himself and all concerned.

There are several attorneys there from this county, all of whom are getting along nicely and well pleased with their work.

Nick Mattingly and his boys living down in Davies county, opposite Rockport, Ind., made a fine crop of tobacco last year and sold it at big figures. They will pitch another big crop of Burley this year. They have splendid land for Burley, are fine tobacco raisers and no doubt will raise a good article and strike it rich if the price keeps up. They moved from this county about ten years ago and are getting in good shape own a good river bottom farm and make money every year.

J. S. R. Wedding Dead.

Hon. J. S. R. Wedding, a prominent lawyer and one of the leading Republicans of Ohio county, died at his home at Hartford Friday afternoon of cirrhosis of the liver after over a year's illness. He came of an old and highly respected Ohio county family and has been a Republican elector for the Fourth congressional district. The deceased was well-known in Breckenridge county.

Hardinsburg, Ky., By consent of the county committee of the Republican party for Breckenridge county, it is ordered that a mass convention of Republicans and those desiring to affiliate with the party, be held at the court house in Hardinsburg on Saturday, April 23, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of selecting twenty-five delegates to attend the district convention to be held at Shepherdsville, Ky., on May 3 for the purpose of selecting two delegates, an elector, and a candidate for congress in the Fourth Congressional District. Given under our hands this 12th day of April 1904.

ROYAL Baking Powder

Makes the food more wholesome, and more nutritious to both brain and muscle.

I have given the Training Table to the Cornell University for five years very satisfactorily, and am certain that much of the success has depended upon the quality of articles used. In baking powder, I use the Royal, for it is undoubtedly the best. I have occasionally given others a trial, and have demonstrated to my satisfaction that there is but one always reliable, always making perfect, delicious and wholesome food,—The Old Reliable "Royal."

(Mrs.) Amelia Morey Atkins.

NEWS OF THE RIVER.

The big towboat Sprague passed down Friday with forty-six bargeloads of coal. This is the largest tow the Sprague has attempted to handle. John W. Pierce, a former Hawesville boy, was the pilot.

The United States gunboat, Nashville, and two torpedo boats, on their way to the World's Fair, are expected to visit Evansville next Saturday. If the depth of the water is sufficient, the warships may come up the Ohio as far as Owensboro. The Nashville is the ship that fired the first shot in the Spanish-American war.

T. F. Sawyer has two barges in Clover creek which he bought at Canneton. The barges are fifty and sixty feet respectively in length.

Particulars Learned.

Not until last week were the particulars received here concerning the death of Albert Jackson, formerly of Stephensport. Chas. Jackson received a letter last week stating that Mr. Jackson was accidentally killed stepping around a train going in one direction and being struck by a train going in an opposite direction, which he did not see. The accident occurred at Brazil, Ind. April 1. His death was mentioned in the News on April 6, but no particulars were known.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 20, 1901.

The Barley dealers are all pinching themselves for selling so early. But they all made good money and are not kicking very hard.

In the Democratic state convention at Albany, N. Y., Monday, the delegates were instructed by a vote of 301 to 119 for Justice Alton B. Parker as the State's candidate for president.

Smiths died against State banks for back taxes, among them the sons of Frank A. Lewis, auditor's agent, were dismissed in the different county courts of Kentucky Monday.

The passage of the bill repealing the internal revenue tax of 6 cents a pound on leaf tobacco by the lower house of Congress, on Monday, comes as good news to the farmers, as it will mean free trade in leaf tobacco and an open market for them.

The B. F. Beard Tobacco Co., of Hardinsburg, sold last week a lot of Burley at the handsome price of $11.30 round, $15.50 being the top price. This is a good sale and shows that Breckenridge Burleys stand well in the market. This company has on hands now over 3,000,000 pounds of dark tobacco which have also advanced about $1 per hundred. They are not offering any of these grades on the market, believing the time is not yet ripe for selling. They are not afraid of the trust and don't have to wait until the market suits them. It is a fine thing for any community to have men in business with plenty of capital who know their business and are not afraid to invest their money. These are the men who do more to keep the trusts in line than any other force. No trust on earth can knock out the independent man, the man who knows his business and is not afraid. There is no telling how low the price of tobacco would have gone had it not been for this firm, the only independent buyers in this market. We hope this company will make a big pile of money on their dark purchases, continue to grow and expand, and hold the trusts in line.

Important Decision.
In the court of appeals Friday the case of the Louisville and Evansville Packet company, appealed from the Breckenridge circuit court, was reversed. The circuit court decided at the February term that the above company had a right to sell liquor on its boats, as the Ohio river was not included in the local option district. The decision of the appellate court makes laws on the boats that land at this point a thing of the past.

Disease Cannot be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; none cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Louisville Live Stock Market.
Reported by Dan Brooks & Co., Central Stock Yards.

Louisville, April 18.—Arrivals were fairly liberal. Market generally was slow, however, all the best grades of butcher cattle sold around steady prices, common kinds were dull and sold slowly at 5 to 10c decline from last Monday.

Stocks and feeders being in light supply, held about steady and all sold readily, except the common grades, which are usually hard to work off. Bulls, canners, fresh cows and springers unchanged. Chicago had a record breaker in the cattle line, reporting 41,000 head and 10 to 15c decline; this caused buyers to feel nervous and all the heavy cattle sold 10 to 20c lower, and a dull market prevailed for all the offerings.

Calves—Market for choice veals $4.50 to 5; common and heavy calves $3 to 4.

Hogs—There was a moderate run on sale. Market opened with early sales being made at steady prices, which were as follows: Choice corn-fed hogs 16 1/2 lbs. and up, $5.20; light Yorkers $4.95; heavy pigs $4.20 to $4.40; light pigs $4 to $4.15; toughs $4 to $4.65. Later in the day prices from other markets, especially Chicago (which reported 22,000 and values 10 to 15c lower), caused prices to decline strong 10c lower on all classes, and the market closed weak. Prospects lower.

Sleep and lambs—Steady prices prevailed for all choice grades, best fat sheep and butcher lambs ready sale at quotations.

ARGUMENT FOR WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

The only plausible argument I have read against the extension of the suffrage to women is that it would enfeeble the ignorant vote, as well as add to the influence of the wealthy. He tries to eliminate ignorance in politics by bestowing political responsibility. Many women who today take little interest in municipal or national government would at once alter themselves to public affairs and would give more time to the study of important questions which concern the welfare of the community and fewer hours to gossip, trifles and bridge whist.

Besides, the ignorant vote is not such a menace to good government in our country as is the rich, corrupt vote. Many intelligent voters block all measures for reform and give large sums of money for bribery and corruption because of selfish, social, personal interests.

Many of our so-called ignorant women are sufficiently intelligent to vote for their own interests, and the interests of the mother country, and are not at all identified with the interests of the father. For instance, many poor, ignorant women would be glad to help abolish the large number of saloons where such a large percentage of their husbands' and sons' wages go.

Former Governor Adams, of Colorado, who recently traveled to Washington in order to give his valuable testimony in behalf of woman suffrage, said in the address he gave at the National Suffrage Convention that during the ten years in which women had exercised the privilege of the ballot in his State their vote had been overwhelmingly on the side of good government. The woman's vote is known to be a sound vote. The depraved woman, he said, took no interest in the elections and had to be driven to the polls by the police. —Maudie Nathan, President Consumers' League, in New York Herald.

THE DAY'S OUTING

Author of "Cradle and Nursery," "First Aid to the Young House-keeper," "Housekeeping Made Easy," "What to Eat," "In City Tents," Etc., Etc.

Long days spent in the open air are becoming more and more a feature of our summer life. No more do we consider a picnic a rare function that occurs once or twice in the season. Instead we take it as a matter of course and make little fuss about it.

Several reasons may be given for this. We are turning more and more to Nature for our rest time and are learning to appreciate what a healthful it is in pure, fresh air. We long to get into the woods and fields and away from the city—even the most devoted city-dweller. As also, we have learned new ways of doing this. The bicyclist explores all the country within reach and the trolley has made access to rural joys easy for the dwellers in cities. We do not have to hire a horse and wagon when we wish to put the town behind us for a few hours.

When such outings as these are to be a matter of frequent occurrence it is a mistake to plan that they should be too elaborate. Then they become a burden. The woman who has tired herself out with preparations for a day's rest, feels by the time she is ready to start that she is so weary she would rather stay at home than go anywhere in the world. To guard against this there should be certain stock arrangements made once for all and the means thus devised should be always on hand.

In the first place there should be a picnic basket. The ideal of this is the beautifully made tea-basket or lunch basket of the English, but the cost of this puts it beyond the reach of most persons. We would not be Yankees and ignorances if we could not where in the world. To guard against this there should be certain stock arrangements made once for all and the means thus devised should be always on hand.

First among these fittings should be a couple of boxes with tightly fitted lids. If they cannot be procured, pasteboard boxes will serve. The advantage of the metal boxes is that their contents keep moist and fresh. One of these receptacles will hold sandwiches, another cold meat, if this is taken, or if not, cake and other refreshments. In addition to these boxes there should be drinking cups of some light metal—glass and china are too heavy—and a set of ordinary knives, forks and spoons that are kept for this purpose alone and will be no great loss if they come to grief. When plates are needed the light ones of wood or paper that are used by grocers will answer admirably, and plenty of these should always be in the house. There should also be a supply of Japanese napkins or handkerchiefs. Some of the articles belonging to the picnic outfit should be used for any other purpose, (in the return from the outing the fittings of the basket should be put in order, and basket and contents set away until the time of the next expedition.

This is the kind of outfit to have for a boating and fishing excursion, or for a trolley picnic, when one goes by car to some distant point. If there is to be a good sized party it is better to have several baskets of small or medium capacity than one or two that are large and heavy. Divide the burden as much as possible. For such excursions there should be provided also a heavy railway or traveling rug or shawl that will do to spread on the grass for a seat. The young people of the party may not need it but it will be pleasant for the older picnicers to feel that they may be sparing themselves an attack of rheumatism.

A tablecloth may also be taken along and the commensalists may be extensive. Sandwiches, bread and butter, rolls or buns, cold meat, hard-boiled or stuffed eggs, salad, cakes, fruit, among the solids, cold coffee or tea, ginger ale, not beer or lemonade for drinkables. Any or all of these are satisfactory if the picnic is to be for an object a berrying or fishing party, a nutting frolic, a calm bake or something else of the sort. For such occasions, when a fire is possible, it is well to take along a certain quantity of uncooked provisions—as indeed is necessary at a calm bake,—like potatoes, sweet and white corn, apples and so forth, while the coffee or tea may be heated over the fire.

Far different is the sort of provision that is to be made for a bicycling party. The members of this must not entangle themselves with the cares of this life to the extent of loading themselves with heavy baskets. They must travel light and depend upon roadside refreshment for the bulk of their meals. Yet something they will be wise to take with them and the experience in cycling trips have made out a plan by which they can supply themselves not only with food but with a change of garments if a long ride is in contemplation. This is done without assuming a load that is bulky or heavy enough to cause them annoyance.

One man who has lived enough in England to be devoted to a bicycle of after ten years never starts out on a ride that will take him all day without his tea equipment. So ingenious is his arrangement that many a woman rider has imitated it. The cost is small and the outfit simple. The consummation that is sold under the name of a "rocket stove" by drug stores serves for hot water kettle, teapot, and cup and saucer. The cup in which the water is boiled is of tin or copper. Into this is fitted the small alcohol lamp, with the tripod on which the cup is set while the water is heating. A silver tea ball holds the tea. When the lamp has been lighted a two-ounce pinch holds enough alcohol to heat the kettle twice—the water from a wayward spring or stream is set to boil. As soon as the boiling point is reached the flame is extinguished and the tea ball dropped into the cup and left there until the infusion is of the desired strength. This expedient tea-drinker is independent of cream or sugar,—which is an advantage, under the circumstances.

Still another beverage is possible to the owner of this outfit. The best tea capsules which are put up by two or three good firms and which dissolve when put in hot water, produce an excellent beef tea that is within the reach of a cyclist who has a "pocket stove."

The package can be securely swung under the saddle of the wheel or attached to the handlebars.

A lunch is less easy to take, although one may put it into a paste-board box that can be thrown away after the meal is disposed of. Those walkers who have tramped in Switzerland and elsewhere know the advantage to be found in a supply of sweet chocolate, which is nourishment in so condensed a form that if one has bread and chocolate a long walk can be taken without fatigues, even if no other food is available. Anyone who prefers cocoa or chocolate as a drink to tea may put a small portion of the prepared cocoa in place of the tea.

I have spoken of the possibility of carrying a change of garments with one on a bicycle trip. Everyone who has covered much of the country on horseback knows that a good deal can be put in a rubber-covered roll attached to the back of the saddle, or that a good deal may be carried in saddle bags. Something of the same sort may be achieved by the cyclist who enjoys going off for an overnight trip. This is a delightful relief of making an excursion, since it enables one to have the comfort of traveling late in the afternoon and early in the morning and spare one the heat of the middle of the day.

The best receptacle for such luggage as a woman will carry on a bicycling trip that extends over more than one day is a holdall made in shape like a large envelope,—say fourteen inches long by twelve in width. A good material is crêpe or some other water-proof cloth. This may be lined with linen. When it is filled it may be rolled into a compact bundle and hung by a strap from under the saddle or from the handle bar, and when it is empty it is a small parcel that can be tucked into a pocket.

Just such a case as this may go the woman rider's makeup nightgown, a change of garter underwear, a riding vest and cap can be put on if it turns out,—although the sweater neatly takes the place of this, an extra pair of two or three clean old socks, handkerchiefs and stockings and a necktie or a scarf with which to make a change at the end of the day. A small set of toilet belongings—such as tooth brush, orange-wood stick, powder box and a tiny jar of cold cream may go with them and there will even be found space for a spoon of thread, needles, and scissors and thimble.

This supplied any woman may feel herself ready to go for two or three days riding with no fear of discomfort. A party that is well planned and suitably equipped will find there are not many pleasanter ways of spending a brief holiday than on a trip of this sort. Now that it seems to be an accomplished fact that every woman who is not actually infirm or otherwise incapacitated will ride a bicycle this summer there is a peculiar interest in planning outings of this sort, and a few more tips on two wheels or on four. In a trolley car or a boat, they can not fail to be a success if they mean refreshment and renewal of strength to over-tired women and men.

LETTER FROM SOLDIER ABOUT HIS ARMY LIFE.

Fort Lawton, Wash., April 1, 1904. Mrs. C. C. Grant, Lehigh, Ky. Dear Mother: You have asked me several times to write you of the army and of my station. I am at Fort Lawton, a military post about six miles from the city of Seattle. It is on a sandy bluff looking out on the beautiful Puget Sound. We are entirely surrounded by big pine trees so tall that one almost has to look down to see the tops of them. Some of them are at least twenty feet around. There the ground is covered by a heavy undergrowth of young pine and fir, and the tallest trees, many of them doubtless hundreds of years old, make
